Jet Reporting Workshop

Create customized reports

Jet Essentials empowers end-users to create customized reports without costly, time-intensive SQL programming expertise – there's no advanced programming required.

Real-time Reporting Solution All Within Excel

Jet Essentials is a real-time reporting solution for people who know Excel. It is perfect for advanced reporting and group collaboration.

Connect to all your business systems from inside Excel

With Jet Essentials you don't need to copy and paste business data into Excel so you can:

- Gain complete visibility and access information from multiple business systems
- Automatically pull the data in to create the reports you need
- Eliminate errors and refresh data at the click of a button

Save time and enhance productivity

Jet Essentials gives your group the power to create, collaborate and share reports all within Excel:

- Connect real time to your data
- Schedule reports for automatic distribution and use proactive alerts
- Drill down to see underlying data and never search for a document again

Learning Outcomes:

This three day workshop will allow attendees to:

Eliminate Errors

- Pull data directly from your database instead of copying and pasting.

Save Time

- Refresh your data with one click for up-to-the minute accuracy.
- Automate your report distribution process.
- No programming skills required to create reports.

Gain Complete Visibility

- Access data from multiple databases.
- Get information from any table or any field, including custom fields.

Improve Productivity

- Drill down into a value to see the underlying transactions.
