Not Just A Good Grades Club

Opportunity doesn't knock. In the FSW Honors Scholar Program, opportunity walks right in screaming "How are you going to change the world?"

Do you have a particular talent? Are you passionate for a global cause? Want to change the world?

The FSW Honors Scholar Program is here to prime you for the next step!

While this program is not just a good grades club, it is going to be one the most challenging and thought-provoking experiences of your life.

Rigorous real-world problem solving requiring a creative approach through independent study.

You may create art or compose music. You may research the next big technological innovation. The choice of expression is yours.

The Honors Scholar Program is designed to question the status-quo and ignite innovation with students doing real-world research side by side with our world-class faculty.

If you are a problem solver, a deep thinker, or someone who questions everything, you need to apply today.

Are you ready for the greatest challenge of your life?

Are You?
