Global Humanities in Nova Scotia, Canada

■ HUM 2020: Introduction to Humanities with Dr. Myriam Mompoin

What do the Titanic, the Underground Railroad, AT&T founder Alexander Graham Bell, a Mi'kmaq Powwow, and Louisiana Cajuns all have in common? Nova Scotia! Explore the richness of Nova Scotia's diverse cultural heritage. Learn about the Mi'kmaq ethnic group (members of Canada's First Nations communities), the French Breton settlers (whose ancestors were deported to Louisiana Territory and became the Cajuns), the first Africans, the Black Loyalists and the Jamaican Maroons (who fled slavery in America and the Caribbean), the Scots-Irish Gaelic and Celtic migration (that included A.G. Bell). Fieldwork in Nova Scotia will include trips to UNESCO World Heritage Sites, colonial fortresses, museums, libraries, and archives.
